Acting for privacy: Marton Evelin

Marton Evelin EV (hereinafter referred to as "Data Controller") keeps in mind the protection of the personal data of its clients and partners in all applications, procedures and methods of data transmission and storage. On this basis, everyone has the right to disclose and use their personal data. Personal information is any information that identifies the user directly or indirectly, in particular the name, address, ID, email address.

Your personal data will be handled legally and fairly by the Data Controller, in compliance with the applicable legal requirements and in accordance with the written and unwritten rules of the International Data Protection Standards. This Data Management Guide applies to the processing of personal data and is not applicable to non-natural person data. The data of our clients and partners are always kept and we do everything from organizational and technical to data security.

How do I request information about how we handle your personal information?

At your request, the controller handles information about you and the data handled by the data controller or processed by the data controller (or data processor authorized by the data controller). Thus, their source, the purpose of the data processing, the legal basis, duration, the name of the data processor, its address and its activities related to data management, the circumstances, effects and measures taken to prevent the data protection incident, and, in case of transfer of the personal data of the data subject, the legal basis and addressee of the data transfer. The controller performs its information duties within 30 days of receiving your request. You can request information in the following ways:

By e-mail with a letter to the e-mail address of the data controller:

Email: info@epicproposal.hu

In a paper-based letter to the data center:

2039 Pusztazámor, Petőfi Sándor utca 12 / a.

A request for information sent in a letter is considered to be authentic by the data controller if the user is clearly identifiable on the basis of the request. A request for information sent by e-mail is considered to be authentic by the controller only if it is sent from the user's e-mail address, but this does not preclude the data controller from identifying the user in another way before providing the information. In order to comply with the request, the Data Controller is obliged to make sure that the person entitled is indeed entitled to enforce the rights of the data subject. In this case, it may also be necessary for the data subject to appear in person at the headquarters of the controller for personal identification.

When can you request a correction of your data?

If you or the data controller discovers that your personal data is inaccurate, incorrect or otherwise unsuitable, either at your request or as a result of the data controller's own action, the controller will specify incomplete or incorrect data.

When do you have the right to delete your personal information?

You can request a permanent and irrevocable deletion of your personal information at any time if your data is managed by the data controller based on your consent. In the case of the data controller or your legitimate interest, and in the case of data management for the fulfillment of mandatory legal storage and guarding obligations, the data controller cannot delete your data. The data controller deletes the personal data at the same time as the purpose of data management ceases. The data controller also deletes the data if it is proved that the processing of the data is unlawful for any reason or even if it is ordered by a court or court to have it deleted.

When do we need to block your personal information?

You may at any time request that the processing of certain parts of the data provided to you by the Data Controller or of any data is limited. In the case of a request for data deletion, the data controller does not delete, but locks the data if the deletion would violate your legitimate interest. The locked data is handled by the data controller only for as long as the purpose for which it is blocked exists, and then the blocked data is also deleted.

How do you withdraw your consent to the processing of your personal data?

You have the right at any time to revoke your consent to the processing of your personal data. Revocation of the consent sent in the letter is considered authentic by the data controller if the user can clearly identify the application based on the request. Cancellation of consent sent by email is considered authentic by the controller only if it is sent from the user's email address, but this does not preclude the data controller from identifying the user in another way before providing the information.

By e-mail with a letter to the e-mail address of the data controller:

Email: info@epicproposal.hu

In a paper-based letter to the data center:

2039 Pusztázámor, Petőfi Sándor utca 12 / a.

Where can you complain?

You are entitled to submit your complaint regarding data management to the National Authority for Data Protection and Freedom of Information.

National Authority for Data Protection and Freedom of Information

Website: <https://naih.hu/>

Complaint online: <https://naih.hu/online-uegyinditas.html>

Complaint by letter: 1125 Budapest, Erzsébet fasor 22 / c.

How can you go to court if you have violated your rights?

You are entitled to apply to a court in connection with data management. The Tribunal may have jurisdiction over the claim, and may, at its option, file a claim against the controller with the court in your place of residence. Your application will be judged by the court in an out-of-court procedure.

How do we get your personal information?

Your personal information is provided to the data controller. If the data has not been received from you, the data controller shall immediately delete the data form submitted unlawfully to the data controller, together with its full data content, if it is detected by you.

What do we do to keep your personal information safe?

The data controller strives to guarantee the security of the data in every way and with the technical means at its disposal, taking all necessary steps to this end, and strictly restricting access to the data.

Effective as of 28 May 2019.
